Set up to start automatically

Question: I want our device to turn on automatically after starting the power supply every morning, how to achieve it?

A: In the above scenario, we can set the fan to start automatically after power on, so the device can automatically turn on after the power supply is started.
If you want the connected screen to start automatically when it is turned on, you can set the host to start automatically when it is turned on.

Setting method:
Connect the mobile APP to the device, enter the setting page, and turn on the "Auto-start" switch, as follows:
